ESL Warm-up Activity

To set the stage for The Fault In Our Stars ESL lesson, begin with a "Character Emotion Charades" activity. Write down different emotions on small pieces of paper, and have students take turns acting them out while the rest of the class guesses the emotion. This activity not only helps students grasp vocabulary related to emotions but also encourages them to express themselves using language elements relevant to The Fault In Our Stars, laying the foundation for empathetic engagement with the novel's themes.

Main ESL Lesson Activities

Vocabulary Activity: Emotion Word Scramble

Divide the class into small groups and provide them with a list of emotion-related words from the novel. Instruct each group to unscramble the words and write down their meanings. Encourage them to discuss the emotions associated with each word, fostering group discussions and enhancing vocabulary comprehension.

Listening Task: Character Voice Recordings

Assign students different characters from The Fault In Our Stars and ask them to create voice recordings imitating their assigned character. After completing this task, have a class discussion where students share their insights about the characters they portrayed, promoting listening skills and critical thinking.

Roleplay Activity: Support Group Meeting Simulation

Organize a roleplay activity where students act out a support group meeting similar to those depicted in the novel. Assign roles of different characters, allowing students to engage in meaningful conversations while practicing language elements relevant to empathy, compassion, and emotional expression.

Reading and Writing Exercise: Letter Writing

Ask students to imagine themselves as one of the characters facing a challenging situation similar to that in the novel. Have them write letters expressing their emotions, thoughts, or advice using vocabulary learned during the lesson. This exercise encourages empathetic understanding through writing while strengthening reading comprehension skills.

ESL Homework Assignment

For homework, students are tasked with writing a reflective journal entry about a personal experience related to empathy and understanding others' emotions. They should incorporate vocabulary and language elements learned from The Fault In Our Stars lesson. This assignment reinforces the lesson's content by encouraging students to apply their learning in real-life contexts, fostering deeper comprehension and empathy development.
